

Biography for Aaron Sawabi, Ware School Committee

"Be patient with everyone, but above all with yourself."

~ Francis de Sales

Mr. Sawabi has been employed in the corporate work force since 1990 and brings broad experience in both business and technical environments. He has been a School Committee member since 2007 and his background includes project management, systems analysis, and accounting. He served in the financial, manufacturing, and electrical power industries, and currently holds a position as a project manager for ISO New England Inc. Mr. Sawabi earned his Masters Degree in Business Administration from The Rutgers Graduate School of Management, and his Bachelors Degree in Psychology from Rutgers College, Rutgers University, in New Jersey.